Thinking ahead

TASK

- Ask each person to write down on a small card, his or her worst fear concerning safety.
- Put all cards in a bag.
- In turn, each person pulls out a card and then starting the sentence with 'unfortunately', reads it out.
- They then start a new sentence with 'fortunately' followed by the action they would take.

For example:

Unfortunately whilst making pancakes the pan caught on fire.

Fortunately there were two adults in the kitchen – one evacuated the children, the other turned off the heat and covered the pan with a fire blanket.

- This continues until all consequences have been explored
- The next person then takes a card.
